

GIBBET MEAT SAVED
BY SHOTING A MOB

DOLBY SAFE IN THE OHIO PENITENTIARY.

After the Killing of Three Men Last Night Another Detachment of Troops went to Washington Court House on a Special and Removed the Prisoner.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 18.—William Dolby, the negro convicted of assault on Mrs. M. Boyd at Washington Court House was brought here and placed in the penitentiary at 5:30 this morning. He was escorted by militia. The militia arrived in Washington at 3:30 this morning on a special and marched to the jail returning with the prisoner. Coming here they met no resistance. The troops have all left Washington. Nothing but badges of mourning remain to tell of last night's bloody encounter. So far as known today the dead are:

JUDY, JESSE, 25 years old, shot in breast, thigh and body.
JOHNSON, MACK, of Williamsburg, 28 years old, shot through body, died during the night.

WELSH, SMITH, 18 years old, shot in body and head.

Seriously wounded:

KATING, GEORGE, 14 years old, shot through leg and groin, will die.

McHUGH, JOHN, a lad standing outside the crowd, shot in leg and may die.

NEIDERHAUS, F. L., 65 years old, bones in leg broken by bullets, may die.

SIMMS, WILLIAM, shot through body, will die.

Others wounded:

ANDERMAN, THEODORE, 22 years old, shot in thigh.

DAWITT, DALE, shot in arm.

ELLIS, ERNEST, shot in body.

KORN, JOHN, of Jeffersonville, shot in foot.

LAUM, WILLIAM, 35 years, shot in abdomen.

PARROTT, DON, 30 years, shot in foot.

WEBSTER, ELLIS, thumb shot off.

SMITH, FRANK, shot in arm.

The shooting occurred at the south entrance to the court house. The mob surrounding the building attempted to break through the doors with a battering ram in order to secure Dolby. Three companies of militia under command of Col. A. B. Colt were stationed at the various entrances and in the corridors of the court house. Several of the soldiers had been struck with stones thrown by the mob, and Col. Colt had warned the crowd to be careful. The colonel had also ordered the militia to fire into the mob if it was necessary to do so in order to retain possession of the court house. A battering ram was secured and the mob began to force its way in. A detachment of militia was marched to the rear corridor and drawn up in line with guns loaded and instructions to shoot the moment the mob entered. While part of the crowd was at work with the battering ram at the rear another part began to hurl large stones at a company of militia on the front steps.

Several of the militia were hit with stones and the militia were ordered to fire at the first act of violence on the part of the mob. While this excitement was raging the large stables of the Cherry House hotel across the street suddenly became a mass of flames. It was charged by the militia that the stables were set on fire for the purpose of creating more confusion. The mob continued to hammer away at the rear doors with the battering ram and suddenly they gave way. There was a wild rush of the mob into the entrance and the militia at once opened fire. It was a deadly volley and the thousands of people assembled on the beautiful lawn of the court house grounds fled in every direction.

The streets were thronged with people, thousands of whom were women and children. Excitement was intense. Business houses were quickly converted into hospitals, and crowds here and there marked the resting place of the dead and injured. The central fire engine house was used both as a hospital and a morgue. At a late hour it contained two men mortally wounded and one dead. Nearly all those struck by the bullets of the militia were engaged in attempting to gain entrance to the court house. Peculiarly incidental is the fact that nearly all of them were workmen.

The most intense feeling against the militia prevails. As soon as the dead and wounded had been removed from the scene the mob started in search of dynamite to blow up the court house containing the militia and the wretch whose brutal act caused all the trouble. Gov. McKinley has been wired by the sheriff and Col. Colt to hasten additional troops to the scene. The mob seems more enraged and determined than ever, and unless overawed by a force of great strength will stop at nothing. There is now danger that if the vast crowd gets possession of Dolby they will not stop with lynching him but will wreak vengeance on the militia.

The scenes where the dead and wounded lay are touching in the extreme. Relatives are wild with grief. The shocking news was spread like wildfire through the country and people are pouring into the city by the hundreds. At 8 o'clock it was reported many more were injured than was supposed and another search is being made lest they have fallen unnoticed in some dark spot. The police have scattered and the wildest confusion reigns.

At 8:35, about an hour after the shooting, a sudden silence seemed to fill the city. It was regarded as a calm before the storm, as the mob was holding secret meetings to organize for another attack on the court house. It is also known that scouting parties are collecting firearms. Mayor Johnson ordered all the saloons closed. People deserted the court house through fear of being fired on by the militia, who could be seen in the windows of the building and were known to be guarding against dynamite.

The crime that led to the riot was an assault by William Dolby, a young colored fellow, upon Mrs. Mary C. Boyd, an aged woman of Parrott's Station. A mob bent on lynching him began to gather early Tuesday evening. The sheriff called out the local militia company. Several hundred determined farmers had surrounded the jail, and it was openly declared that they would first torture Dolby and then lynch him. Sheriff Cook telegraphed the governor for reinforcements and two companies from Columbus arrived at 2 a. m. This additional force kept the mob at bay and at daylight they withdrew. Preparations were at once begun to bring Dolby to trial. While protesting his innocence he avowed his intention to plead guilty to save himself from lynching. A special grand jury was summoned and an indictment at once returned. Great crowds thronged the court house, but left when court adjourned. When the room was deserted Judge Maynard immediately reconvened court. Dolby was brought and arraigned. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment at hard labor.

The mob surrounding the jail and court house attempted to take Dolby from the officers when removed from jail to the court house for trial, but were kept at bay by the free use of bayonets and clubbed guns. When brought to the court house Dolby broke down. While bringing him from the jail the mob charged and almost succeeded in getting him. Henry Kirk, the brother-in-law of the assaulted woman, was knocked down the steps and badly bruised. Another man was bayoneted through the finger, while a bayonet was thrust through the clothes of another. Deputies with revolvers drawn guarded the prisoner in the court room. After the sentence the prisoner was taken to the grand jury room. A mob gathered about the court house and the officers were powerless to get Dolby from the court house to the jail or to the train and Sheriff Cook wired the governor to send more troops.

The mob grew rapidly in numbers and desperation. Col. Colt made a speech asking the crowd to disperse, but it was received with jeers. The mob kept Dolby and his guards prisoners in the court house until 6 p. m., and then made an attack. The militia repelled them without firing at first, but at 6:45 p. m., when the south door was forced, the volley came.

At midnight the town was quiet. Additional troops will arrive from Cincinnati and Columbus. Dolby is still at the court house strongly guarded. The militiamen fired a second time from the east window of the court house on a crowd in an alley, but no one was hurt.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Oct. 18.—Gov. McKinley arrived here at midnight last from his meeting at Hamilton. He went at once to Columbus on his way to Washington Court House. The First regiment, Col. Hunt commanding, left this city at 10:30 last night with 400 men. This regiment had orders to join Col. Colt's regiment in forming a line from the jail to the depot and make sure of getting Dolby on board the special train that carries the First regiment. Once on board this train, with a regiment as escort, it is proposed to land Dolby in the penitentiary before daylight and prevent any further trouble. Meanwhile troops from other points are being carried to Washington Court House by special trains. If this program does not succeed and Dolby is still surrounded by a mob at the Washington jail late this morning Gov. McKinley will cancel all his southern appointments.

FEUD WILL SOON BE ENDED.

Kentuckians Killing One Another Off at a Rapid Rate.

BIG STONE GAP, Va., Oct. 18.—The French-Eversole feud has started afresh in Perry County, Ky. Bob May, an ex-member of the Kentucky legislature, and one of the principals on the Eversole side, is here from Hazard. Judge Josiah Combs, the father-in-law of the dead Eversole leader, is dead. The leader of the French faction, whose name was Frazer, Fulton French, and two others of his faction, have been arrested for his murder, and more trouble will follow.

Riot at St. Louis Polling Place.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 18.—A riot broke out yesterday afternoon at one of the polling places in the Seventh ward. Knives and pistols were drawn, and for a time it looked as if there might be bloodshed, but nobody received more than bruises. Fifteen police officers quelled the riot, arresting Tom Maloney, one of the leaders, and nine or ten others. Several leaders escaped. The riot is blamed to ill feeling between the Catholics and the A. P. A. organization.

ROBBER OUT OF LUCK AND IN THE TOILS

QUANTICO BANDIT CAUGHT BY MERE CHANCE.

Others Said to be Arrested—Captured Man Has Money, Arms and Disguises and a Lack of Circumspection—Several Captures at Cherry Run.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Oct. 18.—Yesterday about 1:10 o'clock Officer Breck of this city noticed a man acting in a rather suspicious manner near the Baltimore & Ohio depot. He tried to board express train No. 9, west bound, with two satchels. The man answered the description of the one who was implicated in the robbery of the express car at Quantico, Va., last week. As soon as the officer attempted to make the arrest the man started to run, but was soon caught by the officer. He claimed to have been stopping at one of the hotels in this city, and upon being taken to each of the hotels in turn claimed that it was in a different one. He was taken to the station house and upon being searched $1,553 was found hidden in two woolen stockings. Nine hundred and twenty-three dollars were in bills and $630 in silver, one silver watch and one gold one; a lot of pawn tickets and three silver pocket books. A fine revolver was in his pocket with forty-three cartridges.

He had a memorandum book showing where the entire boodle had been divided between the men. In his satchel were found old muddy shoes, a slouch hat and wearing apparel that looked like disguises. He claimed that he was an ex-detective in Missouri and afterward denied it. He asked to be taken to the water closet, and while there tried to hide another revolver and some money, but was caught in the act.

The man is rather stout and weighs at least 160 pounds; is six feet tall, smooth face and dresses neatly. He was discovered by the officials that he had arrived in this city at about 11 o'clock a. m. and had lost several hundred dollars in a gambling house. He was seen Tuesday coming out of a clothing store by Officer Goss, who, on questioning him at night, asked him about this occurrence. The man stated that he had purchased two suits of clothes and had paid for them, and intended coming back to this city to get them. He refused to give his name, and, after being examined, was committed to jail to await a trial on 25th of this month.

Officer Breck, who made the arrest, says the man fought like a lion and attempted to draw a revolver. Since he was committed to jail he has become sullen and refuses to talk. He curses the officer who made the arrest and threatens to make things lively for him if he gets the chance. Before his commitment he told so many conflicting stories that there is not the least doubt but that he is one of the men who successfully robbed the express.

It is rumored in police circles that several men have been arrested at Cherry Run, W. Va., all with large amounts of money in their possession, but as yet no particulars can be learned. A number of police will go to the scene at once, when the men will be brought to this city. The officer who made the arrest in this city said that if he had not caught hold of the man as he was about to board the train he would certainly have been killed, as he was intoxicated and refused to say why he attempted to board the train at that point instead of going to the depot.

Judge Scott Settles the Rosewater Libel Case by Dismissing It.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 18.—A thousand people crowded the criminal branch of the District court yesterday to witness the second chapter in the conflict of authority between Judge Scott, of that department, and the other five judges of the district, respecting the transfer of the libel case against Editor Rosewater of the Bee, to some other judge owing to the allegation of prejudice made against Scott. After criticizing the other judges for interfering in the affair Judge Scott, on motion of the county attorney, dismissed the case, declaring that if he could not try the case it should not be tried. Preparations have been made by the other judges to secure Supreme court mandamus to compel Judge Scott to transfer the case.

FIGHT NOT FAR OFF
AT PORT ARTHUR

TROOPS PREPARED TO MOVE ON THE TOWN.

The Japanese Navy in Position to Assist—Chinese Army Under the Command of the Emperor's Father-in-Law—Diplomats at Peking Quarrel Among Themselves.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 18.—Fifteen thousand troops under Field Marshal Ayomama are encamped across Regent's Sword promontory to the north of Port Arthur and within sight of that naval stronghold. They are waiting for a favorable moment to move forward, while outside the port the Japanese cruisers are ready to intercept all retreat seaward.

Sung Kwie, the emperor's father-in-law, has reached Shan Hai Kwan, on the gulf of Liao Tung, where the high road from the coast to Peking begins. He takes the chief command and will try to prevent the landing of the enemy at this point, which possesses great strategic importance.

A serious split has occurred at Peking between Mr. O'Connor, the British minister, and Count Cassidi, the Russian minister.

All the foreigners still remaining in the capital have orders to leave.

The negotiations for peace have collapsed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 17.—The steamer Gaelic, for the orient, carried about $750,000 in silver, consigned to China, where it will be used in paying off the army. Most of the cargo was for Japan. The hold was filled with canned meats, and the supposition is that it is meant for supplies for the Japanese army in Korea. The Gaelic carried away 500 Chinese and 100 Japanese. The Chinese say they are going home for the holiday festivities, while the battlefield is the destination of most of the Japanese.

CLEVELAND WILL INDORSE.

Believed That the President Will Formally Commend Him.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—A special from Washington says: It is believed here that a letter from the President indorsing the regular New York state ticket will be made public early next week and that, in addition to commending the nominees, Mr. Cleveland will send a campaign contribution. This was foreshadowed in these dispatches several days ago and there is little doubt of it in administration circles. It is not improbable also that a number of prominent leaders who have hitherto hesitated to accept campaign engagements will take the stump in New York state. It is understood that Secretary Carlisle will make five speeches within the next two weeks, including one in New York and one in Indiana, winding up in his old home. Assistant Secretary of the Navy McAdoo, who stumped New York in 1882, may also make one or two speeches in New York.

ALASKA NOT AN ELDORADO.

Is More Like the Graveyard of Gold Hunter's Hopes.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 18.—The folly of men without means going to Alaska in search of gold is practically illustrated on the arrival of nearly every steamer from the far north. The revenue cutter Corwin brought down five destitute miners who had been working at Forty Mile creek, near the headquarters of the Yukon, for nearly two years. They could not earn enough in the short working season to pay their bill at the supply store maintained on the Yukon by a transportation company. At last the company decided that it was cheaper to ship them home than to feed them through another winter. Forty more destitute men have arrived, or are coming on other steamers from the same region. Flour there sells for $40 a hundred pounds and bacon $80 a hundred. And still the stories of such places tempt new crowds of prospectors into this forbidding clime every year.

KEEN AT ANN ARBOR.

Thurston on financial issues occurred yesterday afternoon in Agricultural hall and more than 8,000 people heard the speeches. It is estimated that every precinct in the state was represented, and in some instances largely. In addition many well known characters from other states were present. It was one of the largest audiences that ever assembled under one roof at Lincoln, and the reception given to the two principal figures of the afternoon was hearty and enthusiastic. Mr. Bryan's speech dealt mostly with the income tax and silver legislation, from a democratic standpoint, and Mr. Thurston argued from the republican platform. He said free coinage, if not confined to the home product, would ruin the country. He favored the free coinage of all silver mined at home. The debate closes in Omaha to-night.

Disturbed Mr. Blake's Meeting.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The reception given to Edward Blake, M. P., at the Lenox Lyceum at night was productive of a sensation. Y.M.C.A. MEN ARE ALL CHOCK FULL OF ZEAL

STATE CONVENTION OPENS AMID ENTHUSIASM.

Six New Associations Organized During the Year, Says Secretary Anderson and 143 Conversions Made—Building Operations Rather Held Back By the Hard Times.

Delegates to the state convention of the Y. M. C. A. came to town on every train today. At 2:30 they gathered seventy-five strong in the Congregational church for the opening service. T. E. Anderson led the devotion and at 3 o'clock there was bible study led by J. R. Pratt. The assignment of entertainment and the appointment of the nominating committee will occupy most of the afternoon. This evening the programme will be:

Thursday Evening—Song service, "Thanksgiving," C. B. Willis, Milwaukee. Report of nominating committee and election of convention officers. Greetings, Address: "The Secret of Power," Rev. A. A. Kiehle, pastor Calvary Presbyterian church, Milwaukee.

Secretary Anderson is much encouraged by the progress of the work in the state. He says:

Six New Associations.

"During the year six associations have been organized—at Antigo, Dartford, Elroy, Poynette, Sheboygan Falls and Waukesha. In each case the movement was spontaneous and needed only the direction of the state workers to at once take form as a regular association. The Dartford association immediately entered a room made commodious for the work. Dartford is the smallest town in the state with a regular organized work. At Antigo an association was organized but it was found impracticable to secure sufficient financial support for the present year. The Elroy association was organized after a revival under the direction of Evangelist J. O. Buswell and the Cheney quartette. A building was rented at once and a general secretary was employed—this association proving to be the smallest one in the state to engage the services of such an executive. The building contains a reading room, gymnasium and three sleeping rooms. There is a library of 100 volumes. At Poynette, Evangelist J. R. Pratt conducted special meetings of widespread influence in April and, immediately following the work, an association was organized with a membership of fifty.

Homes Building in Several Cities.

"A new association was organized at Sheboygan Falls, December 3, with nineteen members. The work is well organized and the young men are doing earnest, aggressive work for the salvation of their fellows. The interest in special work for young men was aroused by the young men of Sheboygan holding a conference at the Falls, November 25, 26—an example of the good that may be done by the association's reaching out beyond their immediate fields. The Waukesha association was organized in the early spring and showed marked activity. Rooms were rented and the organization at once began to agitate the question of a building. A lot was purchased and a payment made upon it. The enterprise, however, met with a check and has not made large progress up to the present time.

Delays in the Work.

"At Poynette a building lot has been donated to the association and a canvass for the building fund is now in progress. Other building enterprises in the state have been postponed because of the financial condition of the country. The Lake Geneva association during the year disposed of its store property and purchased a lot with four buildings upon it. Two of the buildings are used for association purposes and a third is rented. At the last convention the Appleton association reported that since the fire which destroyed its building, one room had been occupied as a reading room. It was decided in September that for the small amount of work possible in one room, it was advisable to maintain the work and employ a secretary. Therefore, on January 1, the reading room was closed and has not been reopened.

Postponements Were Necessary.

At Ironwood, Mich., the series of misfortunes which overtook the town have forced the association to suspend for the present. The Milwaukee North Side department has also discontinued, having found it impracticable to maintain a work in that part of the city. Its building is now occupied as a House of Mercy, and a most valuable work is going on in the rescue and shelter of women. The Oshkosh association has not as yet resumed work. The building which it owns is rented and is producing somewhat of an income. At Stevens Point the association is at a standstill, no advance work having been done in some months past. The West Superior association has surrendered to the financial situation, and its rooms are closed.

State Membership a New Feature

"An entirely new feature which has been launched this year in Wisconsin is that of the state membership and groups of the state association. The matter of the state membership has been presented in the conference work of the state and has resulted in the securing of eighty-eight members, eighty-two of whom are active. These members are residents of sixteen different towns. In seven of these towns groups of the state association have been formed for the purpose of engaging in aggressive christian work among young men. The aggregate membership of the groups is seventy-one, an average of ten to each group. The results and outgrowths of this method of reaching out into the smaller places promise to be large. Work is still at its very beginning and will require careful and continuous nurture.

Record of 143 Conversions This Year

"This year just closed has shown remarkable activity and effectiveness in the work of the districts. There were held in the entire state forty-one local conferences and young men's Sundays and four district conventions for the year previous. The direct aim of the work has been for immediate spiritual results and the outcome shows the wisdom of this course. One hundred and forty-three persons professed conversion as against forty-four reported the year before. In a number of instances, the conferences were the beginning of an interest which resulted in calling an evangelist, or undertaking revival work under direction of the pastors. Even the financial result has been gratifying, for it will be seen that the net amount raised by the district was $829.03, or, excluding the amount raised and spent in the Third district, which did not pledge to the general work, $570.90 was raised above expenses to cover the pledge of $500. The credit for this result rests with the First and Second districts."

District-Secretary Kellogg Commended.

"The work in the Third district has differed from that in the others in this, that Mr. H. W. Kellogg was commissioned by the state board to devote his time to the development of this field. Much time was given to visiting places which had not been touched by the association movement for years, if ever. In a number of these, conferences were arranged and the people became interested in the work. At Oxford, Seymour, Grand Rapids and Fort Howard, Mr. Kellogg followed up the conferences with from one to two weeks' evangelistic work. At Antigo a week was spent after a conference, during which time an association was organized and a determined effort made to start the work with a complete equipment. Mr. Kellogg on two occasions worked at Chippewa Falls in the Fifth district for a week each, first in gospel meetings for the woodsmen and later in general gospel work with the association.

Good Work in New Towns.

"He visited forty-two towns to study their needs and offer what aid it was in the power of the state association to give. Nine of these had never been touched before by the association. Eleven had received no attention in many years. Mr. Kellogg rendered aid in twenty-four towns. The secretarial helpers in the Third district were very few and were so located that often it was impossible to secure much help from them. It was even more difficult many times to secure helpers from among the membership. The district sorely feels the absence of strong organizations in the towns of Fox River valley, where in other years they have existed. Abundance of room for pure missionary work was discovered in the smaller towns and rural districts. In many places the young men must be evangelized before any form of organization among christian men can be possible."

Work Among the Lumbermen.

Regarding the work in lumber camps, Secretary Anderson said: "It was commenced December 1, by Secretaries Alfred Torry and C. C. Hamilton who had the advantage of the previous year's experience to aid them from the first. Various camps were visited on the way to Vernon Junction. Meetings were held in the camps in that vicinity, after which the secretaries went to the region of Rice lake, and later on to the many camps about Hayward. During the winter eighty-four camps were visited, a large amount of literature, including books, papers, magazines and Testaments were distributed. The secretaries held over 100 gospel services in camps and lumber towns."

Current Expenses Promptly Met.

The financial end of the state work is all right. Secretary Anderson said: "It was recommended one year ago that the convention authorize the raising of $5,000. This has been accomplished and what has already been received in cash and the subscriptions now outstanding are sufficient to cover all bills and obligations. The current expenses of the year have been promptly met. The closing of the year with all obligations provided for is a happy ending of a trying year. The demands upon the work have not diminished in any degree and there is every reason why the friends of the work should stand by it as faithfully during the year to come as in the past."

Not a Time For Clerical Expression

A prominent ecclesiastic went fishing with a judge not long ago. In their lunch basket, which had been placed in a shady spot, was a bottle containing cool and refreshing drink. At noon the weary and perspiring fisherman eagerly repaired to where the lunch basket had been left. He of the church seated himself on a rock, possessed himself of the bottle, produced a corkerew and proceeded to remove the only obstacle between himself and the eagerly anticipated draught, when, lo, the bottle slipped from his grasp, struck the rock and was dashed to pieces. What a trying moment! But our friend on the rock was to the emergency. He looked up at his companion with a most peculiar expression of countenance, and exclaimed: "Judge you're a layman, say something."

RIGHTS OF THE CITY TO BE PROTECTED

MAYOR WRITES OF THE WATER COMPANY CASE.

There is No Disposition to be Unfair But Inquiry is to be Made as to the Privilege Which the Franchise Bestows—Idea of Profit Not Involved.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—In The Gazette of Wednesday evening I find an article headed "What Profit Lies in the Water Suit?" I do not understand that the fire and water committee of the common council, under whose charge this matter now lies, aims for profit; it is a question more of fairness and business principles. The city authorities do not want litigation; but after due consideration of the questions involved, they are in doubt whether the citizens of Janesville have any rights left, or whether the water company is at liberty to use its franchise as it sees fit and to give statements which in the opinion of the committee are out of all reason.

Some time ago the water company was politely asked for a statement as to the cost of the plant. The answer came to the council in a very crude and incomplete form, so much so that the entire city was surprised. The action of the committee has been taken, as I understand, to get a fair statement of the value or cost of the water plant, and not to take away any of the water company's rights as given in its franchise. This is not an individual matter; and the city does not propose to fight an individual battle, but a general one, giving the water company all that belongs to it. When the city asks a fair question, an answer that is more satisfactory than the one furnished should be given.

It is claimed that Mr. Maxey, the manager of the water company, has not been invited to meet the committee. That gentleman has known where the committee could be found, and could get an interview very easily. As to "What can be gained by the suit," I am at a loss to say, except that we may learn whether the city has any rights under the franchise.

The city has nothing whatever to do with the eastern parties who hold the water company's bonds, but is dealing with the water company here. In my opinion the people of Janesville will not sit down and allow this matter to be all one-sided. I am opposed to expensive litigation, but I think the people would have just cause to censure the common council, should the city's rights be neglected.

ACTOR SAYS HIS OWN ARM OFF

Terrible Accident in a "Planing Mill" Play At Marengo, Illinois.

Play goes in Marengo were sickened by a terrible accident during the performance of "Uncle John Spruce." In the saw-mill scene, in the third act, Huse N. Morgan, the villain in arranging the saw to kill his wife, accidentally got his right hand between the log and the big saw, which was rapidly revolving, and his hand and forearm were literally torn to shreds. Later the injured member was amputated above the wrist.

The injured man was game, displaying great nerve, and his self-possession averted what promised to be a panic.

The house was packed to suffocation and many ladies fainted. It was a scene not down on the program, and the most intensely dramatic and heart-rending ever witnessed in the Marengo opera house. It created great excitement and hundreds of people visited the hotel where the injured man was stopping after the play.

A Splendid Wife.

Lots of dealers spend a neat little sum each year in advertising but don't back it up by giving their customers goods that will bring them back. Our little talks are just to start you with us. We calculate to treat you so well that once a customer you will stay with us.

A KINGLY TREASURE.

And One Which is of Priceless Value.

It is Within the Reach of Everyone Who Wants it.

A Subject Which is Interesting People all Over this Wide Land.

The greatest treasures are those which bring the most good, which do the most towards benefitting mankind. Everywhere we go, we see sickness and suffering, until it seems as though there was not a perfectly healthy person in existence. And such is about the case, for there are very few who are not troubled in some way.

The most common complaint is nervousness. There are thousands who would not acknowledge they were nervous, and yet they feel weak and tired, and their actions show their nerves are weak and irritable. This is a dangerous condition to neglect, for it often leads to nervous prostration or other serious diseases.

All kinds of nervous and chronic diseases are fearfully common, and the remedy that will cure them may well be called a kingly treasure. Such a medicine exists, and it is constantly curing these diseases. Read what Mrs. W. H. Smith, of 74 Sutton Street, Providence, R. I., has to say about it:

"I was taken sick five years ago with the grippe. It left my whole system and especially my nerves in a terribly weak condition. I was dreadfully nervous, and lost almost complete control of myself. I was all discouraged and did not know what I should do.

"My limbs were swollen, my feet ached and I had pains all over my body. I got scarcely any sleep, and what little I did get did me no good. I took many remedies but without benefit. Finally, hearing Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy highly recommended, I determined to use it.

"After taking one bottle I was almost entirely cured of all my troubles. My nerves were strong, the pains left me, the swelling disappeared and I could sleep well. Thanks to this wonderful medicine I am cured. I wish every sufferer might use it."

The reason why you should take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is, because it is the surest and quickest medicine in its action known. It positively and permanently cures all forms of nervous weakness and exhaustion, invigorates the blood and gives health and strength. Take it now, for Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy will do more for you than any other remedy.

It is the discovery and prescription of Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th street, New York city, the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. He can be consulted free, personally or by letter. Don't miss this opportunity to get well.

STEWARDS OF AN OCEAN LINER.

A Position of Responsibility With an Army of Subordinates.

It may surprise some old globe trotters to know that the big ocean greyhounds running between New York and the European ports carry on an average of 19,000 pieces of sterling silverware for their table service, and that this large amount of plate is handled during the voyage by from 200 to 240 waiters or "stewards," as they are called on shipboard. The chief steward is responsible for every piece. He must be a man of quick powers of observation, a student of human nature and be up to all the little devices of a small army of subordinates usually keener and quicker witted than those usually found ashore in the same calling. It is a busy day for the steward twenty-four hours before the time set for departure. He has purchased or contracted for all the supplies and an assistant sees that the contracts are fulfilled. But his personal attention must be given to the silverware. He keeps a regular debit and credit account and can tell to a toothpick just what he will start away with. On the voyage passengers are apt to lose spoons or forks or other ware by accident, and occasionally a gay blade may think it amusement to toss a sugar bowl or half a dozen knives through a port hole. It is needless to say that he furnishes a quid pro quo before he goes ashore. When the other side is reached the chief steward spends a day in balancing accounts. He started with so much and so much should be on hand. If there is a difference he seeks to find it, and if he can't find it he "makes good" himself. The responsibility of such a position naturally commands a high salary, and every chief steward on every ocean steamship, without exception, a man of unimpeachable integrity. The extraordinary record is that in thirty years there have been but two accusations of a betrayal of a trust.

McKenzie and Clark, Two Hustling Canvassers Did the Job and Found it Hard, As Almost Everybody in Town Was a Subscriber Before They Went to Work.

Three hundred and fifty-six new names have been added to The Gazette's subscription list in the last three weeks.

"How was it done?" Ask McKenzie & Clark; they did it.

D. J. McKenzie and A. R. Clark who compose the firm made a house to house canvass in the interest of The Gazette. They found surprisingly few families who were not taking Janesville's best paper. However, new families, young married couples "and sich" always furnish material after a canvasser has been away six months or so and the encouraging total of 356 showed that this year was no exception.

Both young men are hustlers and understand their business fully and The Gazette wishes them well wherever they go. They go from here to Rockford and Chicago, en route for southern Illinois.

E. HALL,

EXCHANGED HATS.

A Louisville Man Who Blundered About His Headgear.

"Well, sir," said a well-known Louisville man, "I had an embarrassing experience recently. I invariably sleep until the very last moment, and then make a rush for the breakfast table and the car. That morning I had but five minutes to get through eating and catch the car that passed my door. I fairly poked things down my throat, and hearing the clasp of the motorman's bell I made a rush for the street. As I passed through the hall I snatched a hat that was hanging on the rack, and just reached the corner in time. Then I dropped into a seat and took the morning paper from my pocket. It was not long until I heard a gentle tittering from some dry goods clerks in the seats behind me. They kept it up and somehow I got an idea into my head that they were laughing at me.

"After a while I turned fiercely to one of them and asked what it was that seemed to amuse him so. He trembled and managed to gasp out that I had on my wife's hat. It was even so, and there was one of these long, gaudy, yellow pins that women use to keep their headgear in position, sticking in it. I was so mad that I jerked it off and threw it into the street. Then everybody in the car roared, and I felt truly furious. When I reached a hat store I stepped in and bought me a hat of the masculine variety. Several hours afterward my wife dropped in at the store, and she was wearing my hat. There was a pin in the back of it, and the little face veil swinging from the front, but it was my hat. I didn't say a word, and that woman is wearing it yet. What bothers me is that everybody found out the joke on me, and nobody has noticed it on her."

SEVERE EXPOSURE

Often results in colds, fevers, rheumatism, neuralgia and kindred derangements. We do not "catch cold" if we are in good condition. If the liver is active, and the system in consequence doing its duty, we live in full health and enjoy life "rain or shine." To break up a cold there's nothing so valuable as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They keep the whole system regulated in a perfectly natural way. If we do not feel happy, if we worry and grumble, if we are morbid, if the days seem dreary and long, if the weather is bad, if things go awry, it is the liver which is at fault. It is generally "torpid." A common sense way is to take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. An Ample Fund of Treasure and Health May be derived from an ocean voyage and foreign travel. But before one gets one's "sea legs on," as the sailors say, the abominable qualms, bogotten of sea sickness, have usually to be gotten over. Delicate people suffer, of course, more than the robust from this ailment, but few sea travelers escape it. Against the frightful nausea it produces, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a reliable defense, and is so esteemed by tourists, commercial travelers, yachtsmen and others. An ailment akin to sea sickness often afflicts land travelers with weak stomachs. This is often brought on by the jarring of a railway train. Disquietude in the gastric region from this cause is always remedied by the Bitters, which also prevents and cures chills and fever, rheumatism, nervous and kidney trouble, constipation and biliousness.

A man in the country filled up his father's age, "if living," 112 years, and his mother's 102. The agent was amazed at this, and fancied he had secured an excellent customer, but, feeling somewhat dubious, he remarked that the applicant came of a very long-lived family. "Oh, you see, sir," replied he, "my parents died many years ago, but 'if living,' would be aged as there put down."

English Tea Drunkards.

Tea drinking is rapidly becoming a vice among English working women, and it has just been shown by Miss Winifred Ellis that the miserable condition of the workers in the slate quarries at Merioneth is very largely due to the inordinate consumption of tea by the men, as well as the women, of the district. The teapot is in use all day long, and appears at every meal, and although Miss Ellis herself held cookery classes in the mining district, she found it impossible to wean the poor from incessant tea drinking, or to use nutritious foods. There can be no doubt that the indigestion and anaemia from which working girls and servants invariably suffer is largely due to inordinate tea consumption. In most work rooms and kitchens the teapot is in constant requisition, and its effects, if less revolting than those of the beer can, are hardly less dire upon the health. —New York Advertiser.

NO BEER WAS SOLD BY ELLEN SHAFER

THE ORFORDVILLE LANDLADY ACQUITTED BY A JURY.

Was Falsely Charged, They Said, With Violating the Excise Laws at "The Travelers' Rest"—Charles Green Given a Change of Venue to Judge Bennett's Court.

It only took a municipal court jury ten minutes this noon to decide that Ellen Shafer did not sell liquor illegally or otherwise at her popular resort "The Travelers' Home" in Orfordville. The trial of Ellen began yesterday and the testimony was all in when the adjournment was taken last night. This morning the case was argued and at seven minutes past twelve the jury went out. Ten minutes later they had decided to acquit Mrs. Shafer and both she and the jury were thereupon discharged. It is understood that the first ballot was five to seven for acquittal and that it didn't take long after that. There were two cases against Ellen but the other one was adjourned until October 26 at 10 o'clock when it will come up again.

Charles Green will not be tried in the municipal court for the alleged attempt to shoot Mrs. Harry Marsden. Green's case has been dragging along for some time, during which he had three different attorneys, but when it came before Judge Phelps to-day John Cunningham, who is now defending him, asked for a change of venue to the circuit court, which was granted. In default of $500 bail, Green was taken back to jail on the commitment that Clerk Williams issued.

A number of witnesses, some of them minors, testified that they procured liquor on Sunday night. The defense admitted that beer belonging to the Buobs was kept in her place, but claimed that if any one had procured it, it was not from her.

HOW THE STRIKE HITS JANESVILLE A Few Pointed Facts Regarding the Cloak Trade of the City.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—The article in last evening's Gazette having for its foundation what purports to be the condition of the cloak market in Janesville does a great injustice to this very important branch of the dry goods trade of the city. The article in question may be truthful as regards the position some people are in, and in fact, the ear marks are so plainly visible that its unnecessary to "give a grain" as to the authors. It is true there is a big strike now in progress in New York City and every cloak manufacturer is thereby affected and there is no question but that people who waited until the last thing before placing orders will find it up-hill work to show any of the new things. Speaking for ourselves we wish to say that we have the entire sample line of the Eagle Cloak Company; also A. Friedlander & Co., of New York, numbering about 500 garments. These in addition to daily express arrivals, places our cloak department in the front row as usual, and without any possibility of a doubt, we show more new garments and more new styles than the combined cloak stock of the city contain. That we always have prices about right, is attested daily by customers both in and out of the city.

If you are at all interested in a new coat, we can show you what you want and at about what you want to pay for it. ARCHIE REID & CO.

NUPTIAL KNOTS TIGHTLY DRAWN

Nearly fifty guests assembled at 104 Park street last evening to witness the marriage of Miss Hattie Williams to Hudson Van Pool. At 8:30 o'clock the Epworth League orchestra of the First M. E. church struck up the wedding march. Then Rev. A. Porter entered the parlor, followed by the bride and groom. They took their places under a floral bell suspending from a floral horse shoe arch, and the words were spoken that made the happy couple one.

In the dining room the table groaned under the bountiful supper to which ample justice was done, after all had congratulated the newly married couple. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents. Those present from out of the city were Mrs. F. C. Williams, Reedsburg, Miss Edie Smart, Milton, Miss Edie Pollock, Hebron, Miss Lizzie Roth, Monroe, Miss Maud Rood, Delevan, Miss Irene Rood, Darien, Mr. Turnipseed, Richland Center. About 9:30 the members of the I. O. G. T. lodge called to congratulate and extend best wishes to the happy couple.

Baker Ormsby.

The Gazette offers a pleasant surprise to the many friends of the bride in Janesville, in announcing the marriage a few days ago, of Miss Clara M. Ormsby, formerly principal of the Adams and Washington schools. The groom also formerly resided in Janesville, being N. C. Baker, for a number of years one of the foremen in the Wisconsin Shoe company's factory, but now a resident of Tampa, Florida. The marriage took place in Massachusetts, where Miss Ormsby went last summer to visit relatives and friends. The good wishes of Janesville friends will abide with them.

FAMILIAR NAMES.

A drinking fountain to the memory of Edward Crumme, the temperance worker, is to be erected in Poughkeepsie. It will cost $10,000.

The governor-elect and lieutenant governor-elect of Vermont, both colonels, have but two arms between them, each having lost one in the war.

The sword of General Wolfe, which the Canadian minister of militia purchased for $1,500 to present to the people of Canada, has arrived at Ottawa.

The duke of Orleans, it is said, will give up Stove House, the home of his father, the late count of Paris, and will reside in London and on the continent.

Mr. and Mrs. Kendal are never seen upon the stage except in each other's company. When they were married they made a vow never to be parted when playing.

Frederick Douglass, who is something of a violinist, has a grandson, Joseph, who inherits the same talent, and who is about to go to Europe to finish his musical education.

Pinturicchio's great frescoes in the Borgia apartments in the Vatican, for years covered by a coating of plaster which Gregory XVI. and Pius IX. refused to have removed, are now being exposed.

Although Daudet's country chateau is one of the most luxurious homes in France, the novelist feels homesick at times for the old mill in Provence where on a rickety table in a room which contained one dilapidated straw-bottomed chair he wrote "Tartarin."

Robert Tyler Jones, grandson of President Tyler and the first male infant born in the White house, has been found living in the direst poverty with his wife and infant in an attic in the outskirts of Washington. The Southern relief society has taken his case in hand.

Many branches of the W. C. T. U. having been agitated by rumors that Lady Somerset and Miss Francis Willard had used wine at a recent dinner at Chautauqua, Miss Willard explains that the grape juice in question was unfermented and had been given to her by a tetotalter doctor of divinity.

A bust in memory of Cervantes has recently been erected in a grotto near Algeria. Cervantes in his youth served in the fleet of Don John of Austria, and was wounded in the battle of Lepanto, in 1571. A few years later he was captured by Algerian pirates just as he was about to land on the coast of Spain. For five years he remained a captive.

President Casimir-Perier has a strongly developed jaw, a look of determination, and something of the aggressive appearance of a bull dog. A clever caricaturist took advantage of the resemblance in appearance and name to portray him as "M. Casimir-Terrier," and the caricature has "caught on." Far from lowering him in the public esteem, however, it has greatly increased his prestige as the uncompromising watchdog of the republic.

Official returns represent that railroads in Great Britain pay an average of only three and one half per cent per annum.

From 1811 to 1875, steamboats were built at Pittsburgh to the number of 1,416. After that year construction fell off to almost nothing.

The number of fires from electric wires or lights during the past year was 238, and the value of the property thus destroyed amounted to $3,304,587.

STREET RY. CO. CAN'T PAY FOR PAVING

CITY TO DO THE WORK AND THEN SUE.

Superintendent Proudfoot notifies the Council that He Has No Money Available so a Special Meeting Was Called this Afternoon and that Course Was Adopted.

The Janesville street railway company has no money to pave between the rails on Milwaukee street; so the city will do the work and charge it to the company. Superintendent Proudfoot notified the city to-day that he had no funds for the work, and thereupon President Child, who is acting mayor, convened the common council in special session this afternoon. City Attorney McElroy stated that there was but one thing to do and that was for the city to go ahead and charge the expense to the company. He did not think they could tax the cost as in the case of abutting property, but would have to sue for a judgment. This course was adopted on motion of Alderman McLean.

The petition of residents on Mary street to change the name of that street to Yuba street, was granted.

After the adjournment, it was resolved to go ahead with the improvement. The expense chargeable to the railway will amount to between four and five hundred dollars, but it was intimated that Superintendent Proudfoot would do considerable of the work with his own force, thus reducing the cost.

MAMMOTH SUPPLY KITCHEN.

A Providence Institution Which Is Constantly Gaining in Patronage.

The Supply Kitchen at Providence, says the Journal of that city, has now been in existence considerably over two months, and progress in the work which it has undertaken is the verdict from those who are closely connected with it. Since it first started many improvements and additions have been made, and the method of running the institution has become more systematized. Last month expenses were nearly paid, but the goal has not been quite reached as yet. It is thought, however, that with the present attendance, which averages 300 daily, money sufficient will be taken to make both ends meet after all necessary articles for running the kitchen have been procured. Most of the cooking is now done in the cellar, and a large oven for baking has been put in, a bulkhead has been added and a screened cupboard in the restaurant for the cooked food on hand has recently been finished. All these improvements have drained heavily on the funds of the association and the money taken in daily from the patrons. Two Aladdin ovens are now kept in operation day and night, beans and meats being put in just before the kitchen is closed and coming out in the morning all ready to be used. A dumb waiter from the cellar to the first floor now carries the food up after it is cooked.

An innovation introduced recently is steak and chops for breakfast, costing ten cents an order. The family trade is constantly increasing and cold ham and all kinds of baked meats, bread and soup are sold in large quantities. An encouraging feature in connection with the patronage of the kitchen is that the same persons who came when it was first opened are still among the number to be seen there, either procuring food to take away or getting it at the long counters to eat at the room. The prices continue the same and the menus furnish a considerable variety to choose from. The following is one of the dinner bills of fare for one day last week: Clam chowder, baked haddock, boiled cod, roast beef, corned beef, roast lamb, roast pork, baked beans, potatoes, corn, tomatoes, Indian pudding, boiled rice, rhubarb pie, apple pie, prune pie, brown and white bread, bananas, tea, coffee and milk. The items vary from two to six cents in cost. Saturday is the busiest day of the week, and sometimes as many as 500 are fed on that day. The question now before the management is the feasibility of opening for a short time on Sunday. The kitchen is closed on that day and a good many who depend on the restaurant for food have now to go elsewhere or provide for themselves at their homes.
